Property Introduction

A very well presented mid-terrace character property located in an ideal location for accessing the local amenities of the town centre.

The accommodation showcases many character features associated with a property of this period such as exposed granite and open fireplace in the lounge whilst benefiting from double glazed windows and doors complemented by a gas fired central heating system.

Upon entering the property, an entrance hallway leads to an impressive lounge with an attractive bay window and fireplace, dining room with exposed granite leading into a well equipped modern kitchen along with a refitted shower room. To the first floor are three bedrooms and outside at the rear is a low maintenance garden on two levels with artificial grass.

Location

Redruth is an historic former mining town situated just off the A30 therefore ideal for accessing other areas within the county. Within the town centre are a variety of retail shops along with a mainline railway station operating to London Paddington. The majestic north coast is also within a reasonable travelling distance, famed for its surfing beaches such as Porthtowan, Portreath and St Agnes with beautiful cliff top walks.

The cathedral city of Truro lies approximately ten miles distant being the main centre in Cornwall for business and commerce offering a wider range of retail outlets and is also home to the Hall for Cornwall.
