Property Introduction

Penpont Road is a modern built, immaculately presented three bedroom semi-detached family home, situated within a quiet and sought after cul-de-sac.

The property offers well balanced and versatile accommodation, including a kitchen/dining space, reception room, and conservatory. It further benefits from a substantial end plot, south west facing garden featuring decking and a useful work from home/storage annexe, along with a separate garage and parking. The ground floor comprises a fully fitted kitchen with a zoned dining area, a hallway leading to the reception/sitting room and a conservatory that opens onto the composite decked area and generous rear garden. To the first floor are a single bedroom or study, a second double bedroom, and a principal double bedroom complemented by a bathroom with shower and a separate WC.

Externally, the home enjoys a well maintained front garden with picket fencing and side access to the rear garden.

Location

Penpont Road is positioned in a quiet, family friendly location at the heart of Redruth, offering a peaceful residential setting while remaining conveniently close to the town centre. Redruth provides a wide range of independent shops, local schools, parks, a mainline railway station and there are excellent bus links to Truro and beyond and access to the A30 trunk Road. Redruth is home to Kresen Kernow which houses the largest collection of Cornish archive material and is a mecca for those researching their family history.

The north coast at Portreath, which is noted for its sandy beach and active harbour, is nearby and Falmouth, which is on the south coast and is Cornwall's university town, together with Truro, which is centre of commerce for the county, are both within a short commute.
