Coppice Side Farm – A Rare Countryside Gem With Spellbinding Views

Discover a country home that feels like it has been lifted straight from the pages of a storybook. Coppice Side Farm is a beautifully crafted and impeccably presented stone residence, set within 1.26 acres of enchanting grounds and enjoying one of the most breathtaking rural outlooks in the region.

Tucked away in a peaceful, little-known corner of the countryside, this home offers a level of tranquillity that many dream of but few ever find. The only interruption to the stillness is the gentle birdsong drifting from the neighbouring woodland. The property sits within easy reach of Macclesfield, Congleton and Leek, making it a truly unique blend of serenity and convenience.

A Home of Character and Warmth

This charming semi-detached home, built in local stone, offers three well-proportioned bedrooms, double glazing, and oil-fired central heating. The welcoming entrance hall, framed by an elegant oak front door, leads into a delightful sitting room where a traditional cast-iron fireplace creates a striking focal point.

The heart of the home is the L-shaped dining kitchen, filled with natural light from four windows across two elevations. Its diamond-patterned floor, recessed chimney breast, and antique pine cabinetry evoke a timeless country aesthetic that feels both authentic and inviting.

Upstairs, a long landing leads to three bedrooms and a beautifully appointed traditional bathroom. The main bedroom features an impressive suite of bespoke antique pine wardrobes, adding both charm and practicality.

A Setting That Truly Elevates the Home

Approached through electric double gates, the cobbled driveway opens onto a generous gravelled courtyard. Here you'll find a stone and brick shippon with an attached double garage, complete with electric doors. Planning permission granted in 2002 for two holiday cottages offers exciting potential for future development (subject to renewed consent).

The gardens are nothing short of spectacular. Sweeping lawns, a natural stone terrace, rising hillside to the rear, and a delightful thatched gazebo create a landscape that feels both expansive and intimate. Two additional outbuildings sit just behind the house, adding further versatility.

A Truly Exceptional Opportunity

Coppice Side Farm is more than a home—it's a lifestyle. A place where views stretch endlessly across the countryside, where craftsmanship and character shine through every detail, and where the outside world feels wonderfully distant yet remains reassuringly accessible.

Properties of this calibre, in settings as magical as this, rarely come to market. Coppice Side Farm is a chance to own something genuinely special.
